-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE (3) MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 16 September 2004.

Detailed Office Action

1. This action is in response to the amendment filed on September 16, 2004.
2. Claims 1-26 are pending.

Specification

3. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by

Art Unit: 2144

Beelitz et al. (USPN 6,182,275- – Date of Patent: January 30, 2001, herein referred to as “Beelitz”).

6. As to claim 1, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, including a method of generating a list of target devices to be configured in communication with a server, comprising: creating a first list of target devices to be configured (col.7, lines 35-40, lines 48-51); identifying at least one addressed target device having an associated network address (Fig.1, Target computer system 137 associated with network connection 110, and col.15, lines 55-60); modifying the first list of target devices using the addressed target device (col.16, lines 4-10); and generating a modified list of target devices to be configured (col.18, lines 5-10), wherein the target devices are to be remotely booted by the server (col.15, lines 1-45, and col.18, lines 11-28).

7. As to claim 2, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, wherein the addressed target device is listed in at least one information source (col.7, lines 35-40).

8. As to claim 3, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: adding the associated network address of the addressed target device to the first list of target devices (col.3, lines 5-15).

9. As to claim 4, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: adding the addressed target device having an associated network address to the first list of target devices (col.17, lines 20-30).

10. As to claim 5, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: removing the addressed target device having an associated network address from the first list of target devices (col.4, lines 59-64).

11. As to claim 6, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: pre-configuring at least one pre configured target device (col.18, lines 60-67, and lines 5-10).

12. As to claim 7, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: adding the pre configured target device to the first list (col.18, lines 60-67).

13. As to claim 8, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: determining if a target device has an associated network address; and removing the target device from the modified list of target devices if it does not have an associated network address (col.7, lines 35-40).

14. As to claim 9, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: configuring the target devices on the modified list (col.7, lines 4-56).

15. As to claim 10, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising:

Art Unit: 2144

examining packet data to determine if a target device has an associated network address (Fig.1 associated network).

16. As to claim 11, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: examining log data to determine if a target device has an associated network address (Fig.1 Target computer and associated network 110).

17. As to claim 12, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: providing the modified list to the server (col.1, lines 40-55).

18. As to claim 13, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, including a computer program product in a computer usable medium for generating a list of target devices to be configured in communication with a server, comprising: means for creating a first list of target devices to be configured (col.17, lines 35-40, and lines 48-50); means for identifying with an identification at least one addressed target device having an associated network address (col.15, lines 55-60); means for modifying the first list of target devices using the addressed target device (col.16, lines 4-10); and means for generating a modified list of target devices to be configured (col.18, lines 5-10), wherein the target devices are to be remotely booted by the server (col.15, lines 1-45, and col.18, lines 11-28).

19. As to claim 14, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for storing the identification of the addressed target device (Fig.1, Target computer system 137).

20. As to claim 15, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for adding the associated network address of the addressed target device to the first list of target devices (col.3, lines 5-15).

21. As to claim 16, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for adding the addressed target device having an associated network address to the first list of target devices (col.3, lines 5-15).

22. As to claim 17, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for removing the addressed target device having an associated network address from the first list of target devices (col.7, lines 35-40).

23. As to claim 18, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for pre configuring at least one target device listed in the first list (col.7, lines 45-50).

24. As to claim 19, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for removing a target device without an associated network address from the modified list of target devices (col.8, lines 40-45).

25. As to claim 20, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for configuring the target devices listed in the modified list.

26. As to claim 21, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for examining packet data to determine if a target device has an associated network address (Fig.1 associated network 110).

27. As to claim 22, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for examining log data to determine if a target device has an associated network address (Fig.1 target computer system 137 associated with network 110).

28. As to claim 23, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, including a data processing system comprising: means for creating a first list of target devices to be configured (col.7, lines 35-40, lines 48-50), wherein the target devices are to be remotely booted by the server (col.15, lines 1-45, and col.18, lines 11-28); means for identifying at least one addressed target device having an associated network address (col.15, lines 55-60); means for comparing the addressed target device to the target devices on the first list (col.16, lines 4-10); and means for generating a modified list of target devices to be configured based on the addressed target device (col.18, lines 5-10).

29. As to claim 24, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for storing information about the addressed target device (col.7, lines 35-40).

Art Unit: 2144

30. As to claim 25, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for configuring at least one target device (col.18, lines 5-10).

31. As to claim 26, Beelitz teaches the invention as claimed, further comprising: means for determining if a target device has an associated network address (Fig.1 associated network 110).

Response to Arguments

32. Applicant's arguments filled on September 16, 2004 have been fully considered, however they are not persuasive because of the following reasons:

33. Applicants argue that Beelitz does not teach or suggest the target device to be remotely by the server. In response to Applicant's argument, the Patent Office maintain the rejection because Beelitz teaches the target device to be remotely booted by the server as shown in col.15, lines 1-45, and col.18, lines 11-28 (as disclosed above).

34. Applicants argue that Beelitz does not disclose "creating a first list of target devices to be configured". In response to Applicant's argument, the Patent Office maintain the rejection because Beelitz disclose creating a first list of target devices to be configured as shown in col.16, lines 2-65. Beelitz clearly shows that the user is presenting a list of peripheral devices to be installed in the target computer system.

Art Unit: 2144

35. Therefore, the Examiner asserts that cited prior arts teach or suggest the subject matter broadly recited in independent claims 1, 13, and 23. Claims 2-12, 14-22 and 24-26 are also rejected at least by the virtue of their dependency on independent claims and by other reasons set forth in the previous office action.

36. Accordingly, claims 1-26 are respectfully rejected.

Conclusion

37. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
